Academic and research leadership

A grid table can hold a bullet list in a cell, so why carries several points per entry. The detailed style sets those as a bulleted elaboration under the entry. Here the headings already match, and no fields is needed.

2019-2022 Head

- Department of Econometrics & Business Statistics, Monash
- Led a department of over 70 academic staff

2001-2017 Director

- Business & Economic Forecasting Unit, Monash

Refereed research papers

Note: Publications under "Lyu, W." and "Lv, W." both refer to Wenbo Lyu.

Research interests

The skills style pairs a category with its members, written either as one string in with or as a list in why.

Methods Forecast reconciliation, Functional time series, Anomaly detection, Time series visualisation

Applications Electricity demand, Demography, Tourism

Software R, Rcpp, Stan

Grants

Where the data already lives in a data frame, the same options are given as cell options instead, and the cell prints a table for the filter to pick up. See the README for that form.
